

GROWN-UP GUIDE

The little story machine

Little Reindeer, in a teacup, with an umbrella... Why? Three strips move independently: 64 story starters, with as many endings as you can imagine.

1 Print and cut

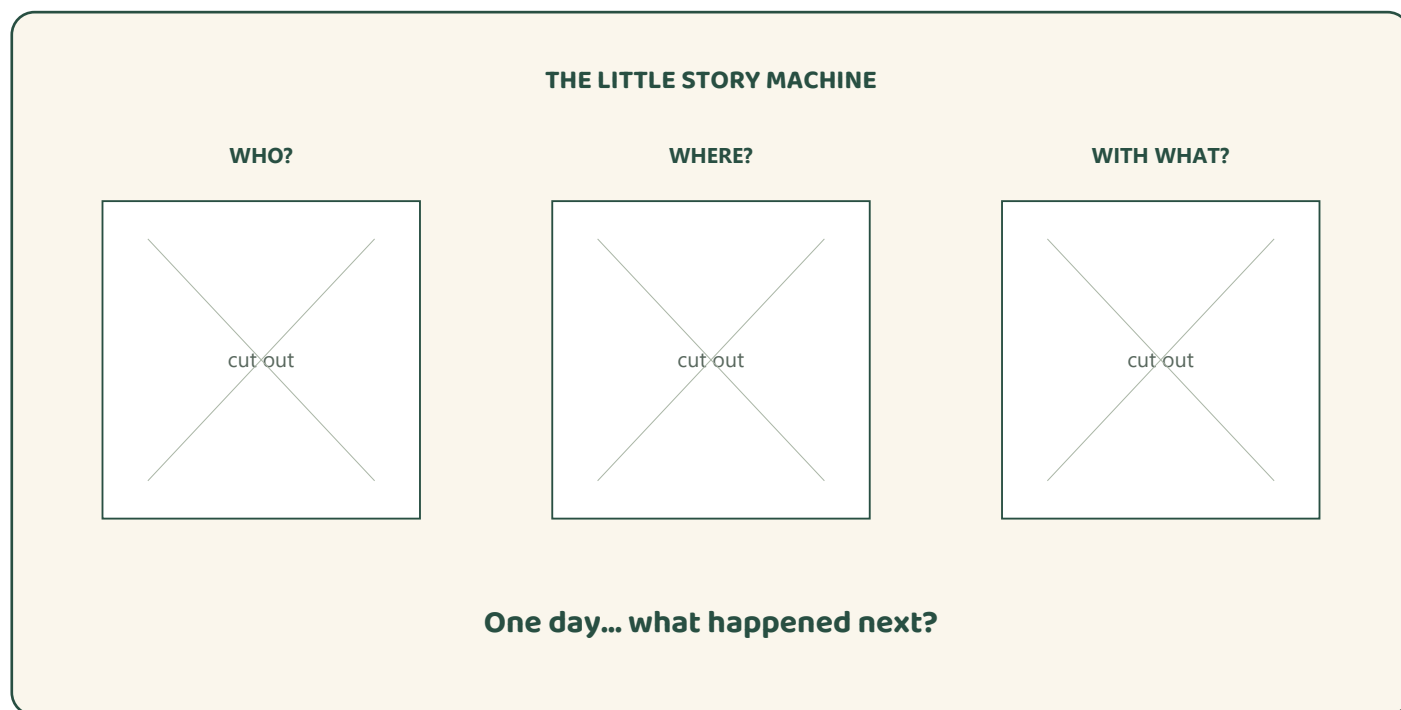

Print pages 2 and 3 single-sided, at 100% (actual size). A grown-up cuts the frame, its three windows, the three strips and six guides. Thicker paper helps the frame.

2 Make it slide: keep the strips free

On the back, centre a strip behind each window. Lay two guides across it, one above and one below the window. Tape only their coloured ends to the frame.

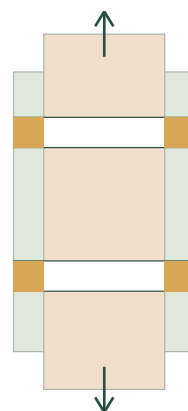

To play, gently pull the strips. Name, point or tell a story. The grown-up can begin: "One day..." A single sentence can be a whole story.

The frame and its six guides

On the back of the frame

The guide goes OVER the strip. Only the two coloured ends are taped to the frame. The strip stays loose and must slide.

This line must measure 5 cm when printed.

Three strips, 64 stories

Cut only around the outside: three strips, not twelve separate cards.

WHO? ↑	WHERE? ↑	WITH WHAT? ↑
 Girafoufou	 a cloud	 a present
 Little Reindeer	 a teacup	 an umbrella
 a bird	 a hollow tree	 a ladder
 a snail	 the Moon	 a sock
PULL GENTLY	PULL GENTLY	PULL GENTLY